PROFILE

I'm Danilo, i'm originally from Italy an I'm currently studying web developing at the Coder Academy. Since i was younger, I've been always interested in tech and everything related. At 20, when I was still in Italy I graduated from a technical school specialized in IT, where I got the Diploma in Computer Science. I've learned the principles and the fundamentals of the coding and networking such as C++, Java, SQL and CISCO.

At the moment I'm working as cabinet maker with the promise to become a good and proficient web developer.
